Miss Bradbury

During the past four years, the class of 1968 has come to know you in many capacities. We know you as a friend, an advisor, and as a teacher. You are the friend that can be depended on for a ride home or a few extra minutes of advice. You are the advisor that can get a group of students to do a job and do it right. You are the teacher who taught us many valuable lessons. You always seem to be involved in some activity for the class of 1968 or for the whole school.

We, the class of 1968, proudly dedicate the 1968 Nisa'tin to you, friend, advisor, teacher—Miss Bradbury.

Miss B - I'm proud to have been your student, and your colleague, and your friend. May your retirement be fruitful & happy.
Fondly,
Sue

The team played Raymond in the first game of the New Hampshire State Soccer Tournament. After 3 periods the score was 1–0, Redskins in the lead. However, to the dismay of a frenzied G.H.S. crowd, Raymond scored and overtime was played. The combination of skillful maneuvers and brilliant plays led to the winning goal. The final score was 2–1. In the second game of the New Hampshire State Soccer Tournament, Goffstown, led by Bruce Watt and Jerry Salo, played Oyster River, but lost 3–1.

Congratulations to Mr. K. and the team for a fine season.

Varsity Basketball

The 1967–68 basketball season, marked the entrance of Goffstown High into Class I with the Redskins and Coach Konieczny facing a challenging schedule of opponents. The height disadvantaged Maroon and White took it on the chin this year as our final record tallied at 3–17. Despite these odds, Dick Hamel averaged 25 points a game and a tremendous defensive effort was waged by Rick Judkins and Jeff Benson.

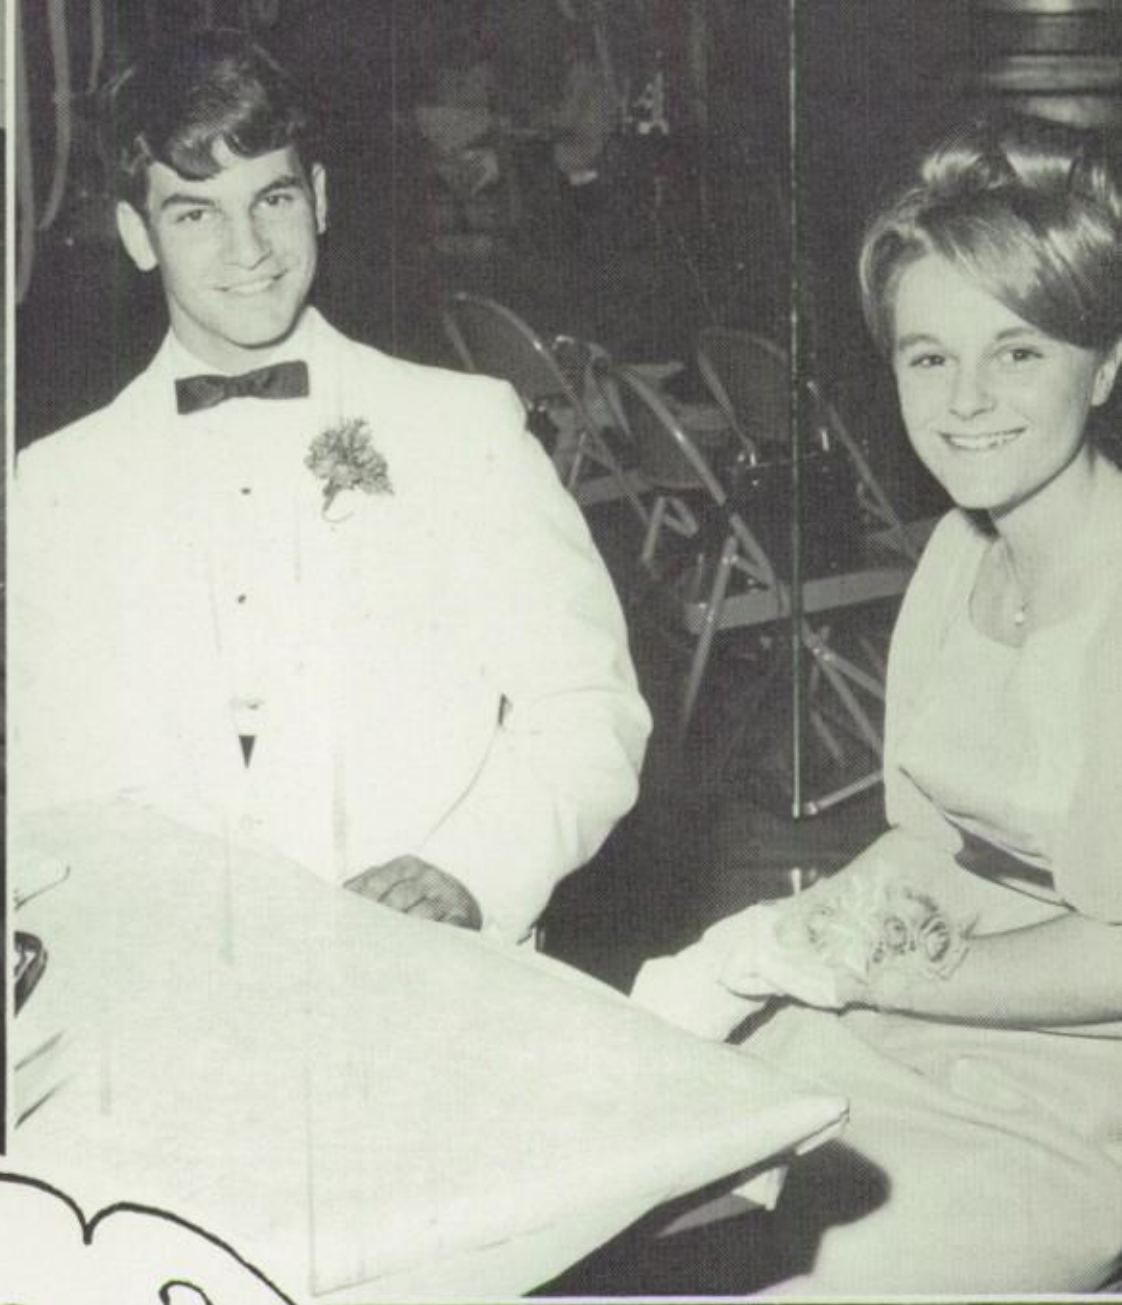
Athletic Association

The Athletic Association's officers are elected at the beginning of each school year by the entire student body. The association is in charge of running the athletics at G. H. S. under the direction of Mr. Konieczny. Besides selling refreshments and tickets, they arouse school spirit and display courtesy at basketball games. Although the organization is not large, the members do a fine job in giving Goffstown athletes the support they need.

HIGH SCHOOL



69-70 ACTIVITIES

"I Say a Little Prayer"

Freshmen Initiation

Despite the humiliating chores bestowed on the Freshmen during the week of November 1–7, they emerged without any physical harm from their ordeal. The Sabre Committee, headed by David Gagne and David Kremidas, devised several ingenious stunts; such as having the Frosh carry Senior lunch trays, or having the Freshmen tip their beanies to Seniors when passing them. "Initiation Week" proved a great success as there were no wild pranks, and the Freshmen enjoyed it and participated in it more than they had done in previous years. "Hail to all Seniors," echoed throughout the halls of Goffstown High School. Brought back to the good will of the Seniors, the Frosh were invited to participate in a gala reception given in their honor at which all Freshmen were officially accepted as proud G.H.S. students.

Winter's Kaleidoscope

The Goffstown High Winter Carnival of 1968 was astonishing. Snow was predicted for the entire week of the carnival, and not a flake fell until the last day. What covered the ground between February 3–9 could more easily pass for broken glass than for snow.

In spite of this, the carnival brought more excitement and activity than ever before. Goffstown will never forget Freshman, Earle Davenport as torch-bearer, Chuck Weilbrenner, Sophomore as Snoopy, Junior, Craig Slattum snowshoeing in ski-boots, and Senior Steph Shost as a lion.

Of course, the Seniors won the carnival, but the other classes did remarkably well, with the Sophomores second, the Juniors third, and the Freshmen fourth.

The Clown Who Ran Away

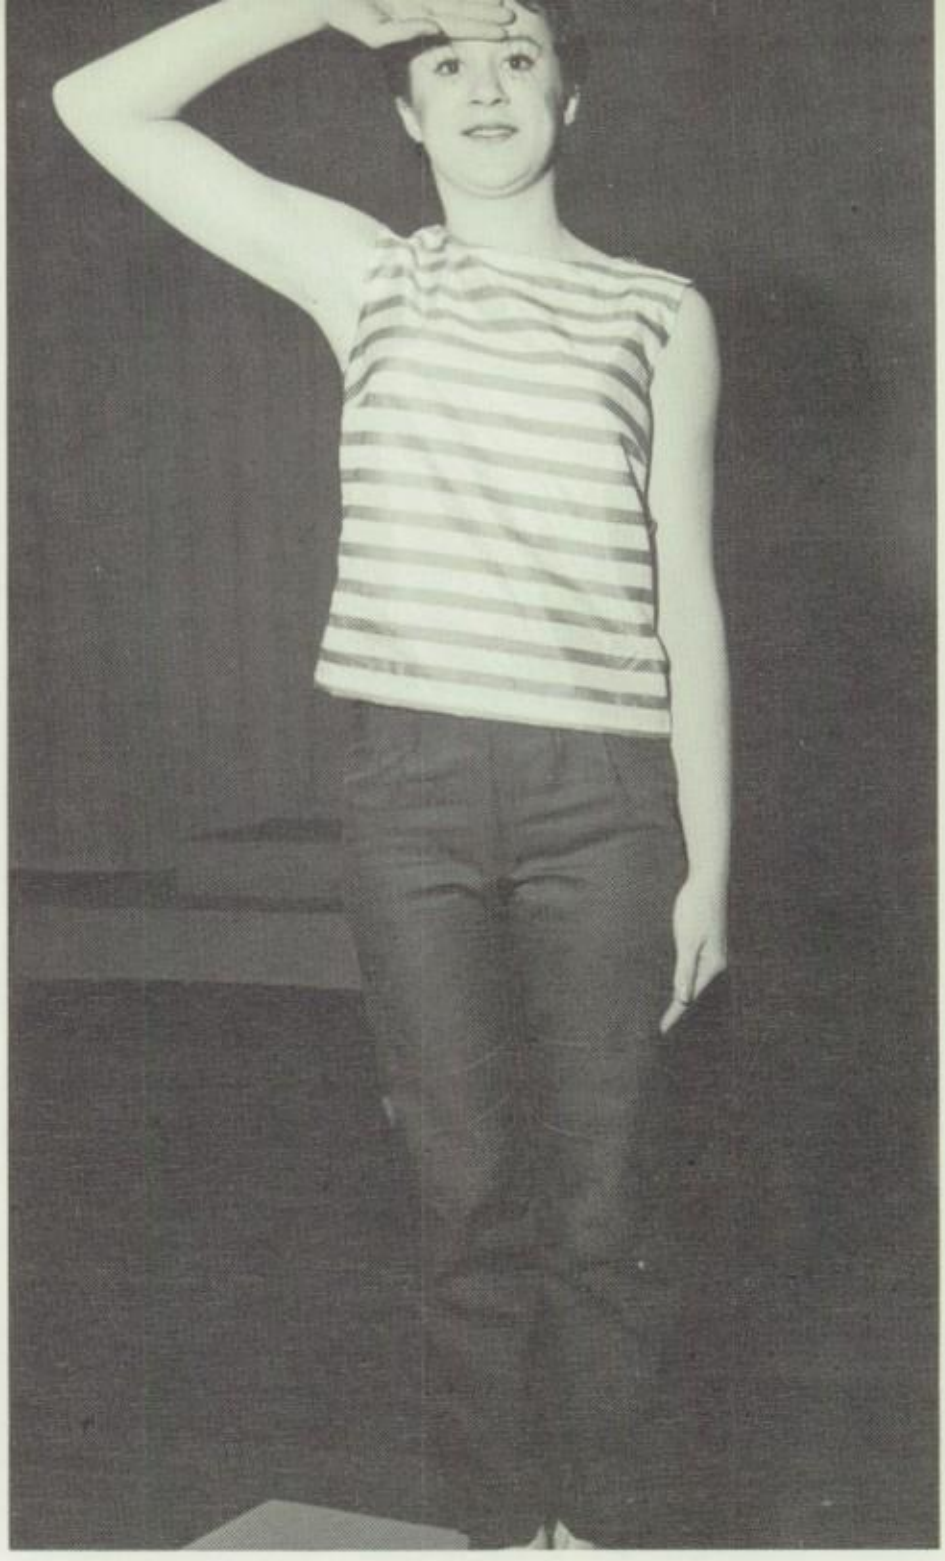
On December first, second, and third, the Dramatics Club put on its fall production: Conrad Seiler's The Clown Who Ran Away. The play, a two-act comedy for children and for "the young at heart", was performed in an unconventional fluid style with little stationary scenery, many colorful costumes and movable props, unexpected entrances, and carefully imaginative lighting, sound, and makeup—and acting!

The actors were led by Dan Grady, who gave a rambunctious characterization of Dodo the circus clown. Other leads in the play were: D. Spofford and L. Hoadley as Gladys, a homeless horse; R. Mace as Mr. Frumpkins; R. Adams as Andrew; the six dolls were G. Lefebvre, C. Bynum, J. Davenport, D. Bynum, S. Chamberlain and N. Filleul; L. Chase, as Rudolph Bernard Boo; L. Beever as Ugly, his servant; and D. Gove as the Policeman.

The play met a very positive response—children hooted, hollered, asked questions, voluntarily donated nonexistant sums of money for great causes, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The other "young at heart" delightedly hooted and hollered.

"To my cave in the mountains!"

"Would you like me to tell you a story?"



"I am a doll."

"Time out".

Assemblies

The Assembly Committee of the Student Council provided several assembly programs which were both informative and entertaining. In order to instill us with Thanksgiving spirit, Reverend Cart spoke to us about the true meaning of this holiday. At Christmas, a light-hearted Huntley-Brinkley Report was rendered by Senior English students, and a talented French class sang our favorite carols. A series of films and lectures by Mr. Childs, a psychiatrist, gave us an enlightening view on the misuse of drugs. Other assemblies included a summary concerning our NASA program, and a delightful preview of the G.H.S. production of The Clown Who Ran Away.

This year it was the objective of the Nisa'tin staff to depict Goffstown High School as more than a building. We have attempted to publish a book that will bring back numerous memories of people and events in future years.

Beth MacGregor served as Editor, doing what most editors do, namely everything. Members of the upper classes worked every night until at least five o'clock. The cooperation and support of students and faculty helped to make the efforts of the members of the Nisa'tin staff a success. Miss Bradbury, our advisor, instilled in us the confidence and stamina we needed to publish the 1968 Nisa'tin.

Student Council

The Student Council, under the enthusiastic direction of President Erik Durmer, reached a new pitch of activity this year. In the school itself, the council has worked to improve lunch dismissals, the operation of the bookstore, the regulation of corridor traffic, and the enforcement of the school code.

The annual Goffstown Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Council lightened dead winter spirits. The carnival ran smoothly in spite of adverse weather conditions.

In addition to organizing school activities, the Council has encouraged inter-school activity, and has kept up constant communications with other student councils. Two Council members from Immaculata High School visited Goffstown High School, and similar plans are being made with Hopkinton High School.

Band

The band is an organization that requires hard work as well as talent. Under the direction of Mr. Rausch the band has shown initiative and achievement. They have successfully entered in competitions throughout New England, played in school assemblies, and held several band concerts during the year.

Chorus

The Chorus met weekly to rehearse with Mr. Bartosiewicz. They sang in the Christmas concert and in the Christmas assembly. Because of scheduling problems, the organization is not large. But, it is a good beginning for a larger Chorus in the future.

Future Nurses Of America

The Future Nurses of America is an organization which grows every year. The members work in the Nurse's office during their study halls and aid Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Bockus in keeping school health records up to date. They have gone on several trips to different hospitals to observe what being a nurse involves. If each of the members fulfills her ambition, nursing staffs in the hospitals were they work will be more complete.

The National Honor Society is made up of students with a 3.0 or better average throughout their school years and who excel in the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

At present, there are nine members: Jerry Gibbs, Jerry Salo, Rosalyn Holland, Beth MacGregor, Shelley Chamberlain, Margaret Whipple, Marilyn Stark, Edward Kilar, and Sylvia Jordan.

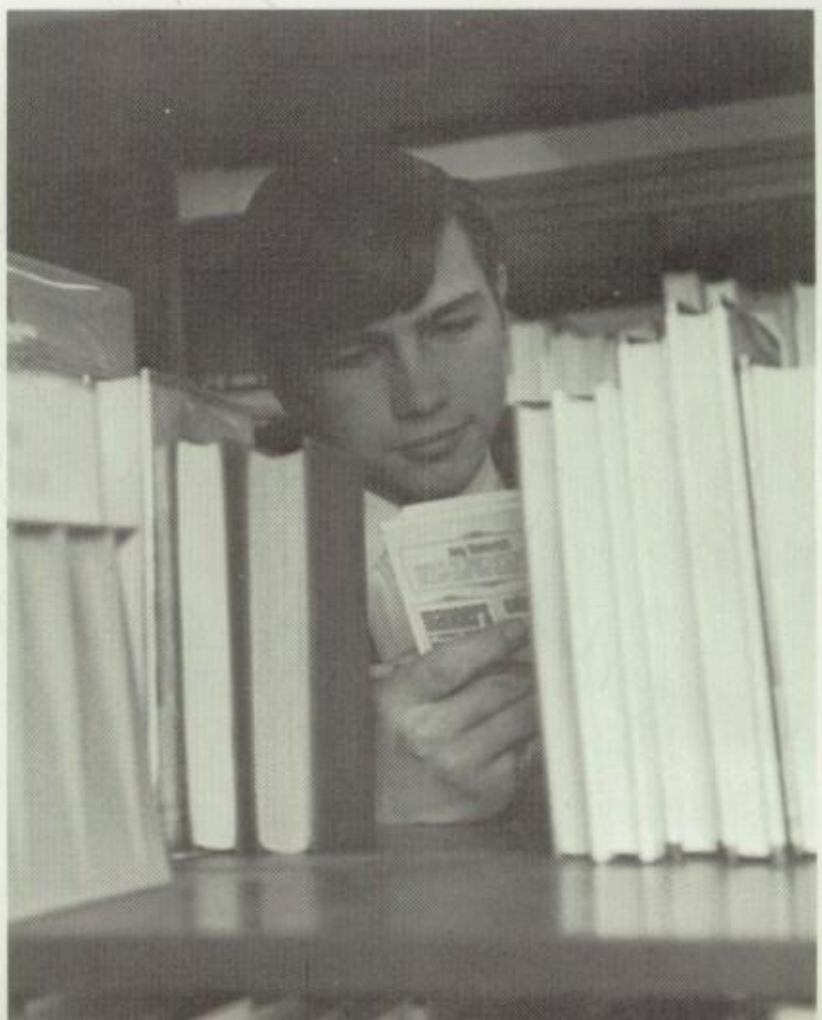
Library Assistants

The Library Assistants to Mrs. Duncan are made up of a group of students who have voluntarily given up their study periods to work in and for the library. Many of the assistants remain until four in the afternoon so that students may continue to do research.



Office Workers

The office workers help Mrs. Hale during their study periods. They type, answer the phone, and do other various chores around the office. If needed, they willingly help Mr. Moulton, Mr. Stevens, and Mr. Lemery.

Mrs. Hale, Secretary; Standing: S. Haskell, F. Ducharme, P. Hunter, M. Gibeault, C. Pelchat, L. Murray, D. St. Laurent, C. Smith, C. Elliott.

Dramatics Club

The Goffstown High Dramatics Club and Thespian Society has attempted to integrate a program of drama production. They are trying to bring into focus all the elements of production: set design, costume design, lighting and sound engineering, make-up artistry, and acting. With this goal in mind, the Dramatics Club has put on two plays. The first was The Clown Who Ran Away. This children's play was performed in keeping with the precedent of presenting one children's play each year. The second play was The Miracle Worker, a play concerning the stimulation of the mind of Helen Keller through the work of her teacher, Ann Sullivan.

In addition to these plays, outside activity such as the attendance of plays, and the participation in drama courses was encouraged. A busload of students attended a performance of Antigone at U.N.H. Plans to attend the State and New England Drama Festivals are being made.

"Oh How Happy" . . . Her majesty, Bette Hall and her court —first aide, Marsha Jackson, and second aide, Marilyn Stark, reigned. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Bette by Judy Milne, 1966 Prom queen.

Our Junior Prom, "Through the Looking Glass", featured the "Us". The magical setting of giant flowers, keyhole doors, a canopy, and an enormous toadstool adorned the gymnasium.

"I Could Have Danced All Night" . . . As the hours passed, the couples danced and danced and danced.

St. Paul's

During the summer months the St. Paul's Advanced Studies Program is offered to a limited number of students in New Hampshire who wish to study subjects that are not yet offered at their schools. During the past summer Shelley Chamberlain attended the course in Modern European History.

Granite Girls' State

Beth MacGregor represented G.H.S. at Granite Girls' State which was held at New England College last summer. The qualities stressed during Girls' State are truth, love, learning, and friendship. Girls from throughout the state gained knowledge of the organization of town government, the General Court, and the Governor's Council. Legislation was passed by the delegates concerning state beautification, a minimum teacher's salary and the reform of town elections.

Profile Boys' State

Edward Kilar and Robert Rancke attended the annual Boys' State held at the University of New Hampshire in June of 1967. Boys from throughout the state participated in a week long conference stressing the organization of town and state government. During this time they not only studied the functions of local government, but they applied this knowledge in simulated legislative sessions.

Semi-Finalist

On the basis of his excellent score in the NMSQT taken in his Junior year, Jerry Gibbs was selected as a semi-finalist from G. H. S.
